To Whom it May Concern:

National Volunteer Week will be observed from April 18th through April 24, 1993. The theme for this year is "Volunteer, A Chance to Change Tomorrow", emphasizing that volunteers have the power to move mountains in their community. For truly, volunteers are changing tomorrows for hundreds of thousands of people every day across America.

The Volunteer Center of Reading and Berks County encourages you to honor and recognize the services your student volunteers provide for the community. Young people are an untapped volunteer resource in solving community problems. Youths engaging in volunteer activities gain valuable experience, learn new skills, and contribute to their community.

We sincerely hope that you will honor those who reach out to others within Berks County.

Sincerely,

Bev Snyder

Volunteer Coordinator

Celebrate National Volunteer Week!

Churches, agencies, and other organizations around America are preparing to celebrate the 18th National Volunteer Week, April 13 - 24. As you are aware, the role of the volunteer in the life and ministry of the church is an important one. The church depends upon those who volunteer their time and effort to do the various tasks and services necessary or helpful for effective and faithful ministries.

This year's theme, "Volunteer, A Change To Change Tomorrow", emphasizes that volunteers have the power to move mountains in their community. For truly, volunteers are changing the tomorrows of hundreds of thousands of people every day across America.

Locally, the Volunteer Center of Reading and Berks County views the month of April as an excellent time to honor community volunteers and emphasize the need for additional volunteers.

Below is a list of ways to support and recognize volunteers and the work they do within the church, and in the community. Add your own creative ideas and plan how to implement as many as possible. If additional help or information is needed, contact the Volunteer Center of Reading and Berks County at 371-4571. It is important to support volunteers in the church who give so generously of themselves to further the work and life of the church. Happy Celebrating!

- Praise volunteers to their friends.
- Provide opportunities for individual conferences.
- Maintain an accurate record of their training and work and be prepared to provide a reference for the volunteers when they seek employment or other volunteer ministries.
- Plan a volunteer-of-the-month program or emphasis. For example: September--educational ministry workers; November--conference and association volunteers; January--official board; February--committee members; March--community volunteers; April--choir and music. Recognize these people in the church newsletter, the Sunday morning worship service, by placing their pictures on the church bulletin board.
- Send a letter of appreciation to the person's family.
- Honor groups and the individuals in the groups.
- Have a picnic for volunteers.
- Say "Thank you!"
- Publicize information concerning recognition which members of the church have received for their volunteer work in other groups, institutions or agencies.
- Ask volunteers to write statements on "why I serve in the church" and publish them in the church newsletter.
- Give a gift of appreciation, for example, a certificate of recognition, a book or other memento appropriate to their ministry.
- Provide opportunities for volunteers to assess their satisfactions, needs, learnings and growth in ministry.
- Form volunteer support groups for sharing joys and concerns.
- Provide opportunities for members to develop or create ministries to match and use their skills and interests.

RE:

Volunteer Recognition Activities

The 1993 Volunteer Recognition Committee has been hard at work developing and implementing activities to honor the thousands of volunteers in Berks County who are crucial in meeting the needs of human service organizations. The Committee decided to move ahead with a media event for 1993, rather than a luncheon.

The 1993 Recognition Activities include:

Banners highlighting volunteerism Munth of Paul will fly on Penn Square.

The State, County, and City will proclaim April 18 - 24, as Volunteer Week.

Public Service Announcements will be aired on local radio stations.

TV 51 will produce and air 10, 3-minute news stories on volunteerism. The spots will run throughout the month of April. Check your local cable listing for the channel number in your area.

The Reading Eagle/Times will promote volunteerism in a news column.

An article was written for the Greater Reading Council of Churches Newsletter encouraging local churches to honor volunteers.

Letters to all schools in Berks County were written to encourage administrators and teachers to recognize student volunteers.

Letters to agencies and organizations in Berks County were written to encourage recognition of volunteers .

As you can see, the Committee has been hard at work to provide activities which honor volunteers. If you would like additional information on any of the above activities, please contact me. Enjoy celebrating with your volunteers!

Guest:

Sandra Post, Chairperson, Volunteer Center of Reading And Berks County

Questions:

- Sandy, what is the Volunteer Center of Reading and Berks County?
- 2. What is the Center's mission?
- 3. What types of volunteer opportunities exist within the community?
- 4. How does the referral process work?
- 5. Sandy, if a person is interested in volunteering, who shoud they contact?

- 1. The Volunteer Center of Reading and Berks County is the conduit by which volunteers are matched to available volunteer positions. Agencies and organizations have the opportunity to list and advertise their volunteer needs with the Center. Individuals or groups access information on volunteer needs and are referred to appropriate agencies. The Center also provides training and technical assistance on volunteer and volunteer related issues to agencies, schools, businesses, and other groups as requested. A lending resource library of volunteer resources is maintined. The Volunteer Center advocates for volunteerism in our community and sponsors several volunteer-driven programs.
- 2. The primary function of the Volunteer Center is to develop and implement programs to expand volunteerism, to effectively utilize volunteers to support community human service needs, and to recognize the efforts of all community volunteers. In 1992, over 2,360 volunteer referrals were made to community service organizations throughout Berks County.
- 3. The Volunteer Center offers one-time, short-term, and long-term volunteer positions. You can give a little or a lot of your time. Volunteers can renovate housing for the homeless, serve as a role model for youths, deliver meals to the homebound, or visit a person with AIDS. These are just a few of the types of volunteer positions available through the Volunteer Center.

4. We will not ask question 4!!!

5. If an individual or group is interested in volunteering within Berks County or would like more information on volunteer oportunities, they may contact the Volunteer Center of Reading and Berks County at 371-4571. The staff can also assist residents of other counties in locating a Volunteer Center closest to them.
